Engineer and Contract Design and Analysis of Control Systems Arthur G.O. Mutambara 2017-12-14

Written to inspire and cultivate the ability to design and analyze feasible control algorithms for a wide range of engineering applications, this comprehensive text covers the theoretical and practical principles involved in the design and analysis of control systems. From the development of the mathematical models for dynamic systems, the author shows how they are used to obtain system response and facilitate control, then addresses advanced topics, such as digital control systems, adaptive and robust control, and nonlinear control systems.

Recent Technical Solutions to Advance Sustainable

Infrastructure Gulom Uzakov 2026-04-30 This book is of interest to practical engineers and scientists in the field of ecology and energy. This book presents modern approaches to solving environmental and energy problems as the basis for sustainable development of civil infrastructure. The purpose of the book is to summarize international experience in environmental and energy engineering solutions for sustainable development of civil infrastructure, namely: the formation of scientific and design directions for the development of ecology and energy in the context of infrastructure; the development of fundamental and applied research in the field of infrastructure and related sciences; the formation of recommendations aimed at improving the efficiency of engineering solutions. This book collects unique experience in solving environmental and energy infrastructure problems from different countries of the world, for example, papers from Oman, China, India, Uzbekistan, Tajikistan, Russia, India, Turkmenistan, and other countries are planned. Researchers from different countries present their vision of solving infrastructure problems in their location, which allow the world community to get acquainted with these latest achievements and, possibly, use them for the benefit of their people. This book allows developing scientific and practical research and is useful for state and regional authorities, international and supranational organizations, scientific and professional community.
