

Cider House Rules By John Irving

Literature, Gender, Space Sonia Villegas López 2004 Esta colección de ensayos propone una aproximación multidisciplinar a los Estudios de Género desde la perspectiva del análisis del espacio y su aplicación a los textos literarios. El presente libro parte de la teorización que desde el feminismo y más recientemente desde los Estudios de Masculinidad se ha hecho en torno al espacio real-doméstico, público, geográfico'e imaginado'cuerpo, nación, artes'y cómo los sujetos han sido insertados o han logrado situarse en él. El volumen se divide en tres grandes secciones?I. Sex/Gender: Unexplored Regions, II. Inside Out: From the Private to the Public, y III. Literary (Un)Common Places?, cada una de las cuales se bifurca a su vez en dos apartados. Así, la primera de las secciones ofrece dos perspectivas, ?Feminine/feminist territories,? que desmitifica la estratificación genérica del espacio y su asignación estricta a los sexos e incluye trabajos sobre literatura popular femenina, los nuevos espacios feministas sugeridos por la ciencia ficción, y la inserción de lo femenino en la realidad postcolonial, la diáspora y las migraciones; y ?Geographies of gender,? que muestra la artificialidad de la división de los espacios según el género, así como los territorios en los que necesariamente hombres y mujeres coinciden y se sitúan, movidos por fenómenos como la urbanización y la industrialización, y disciplinas como la arquitectura y la distribución de los espacios privados.

Feminism's Progress Carol Colatrella 2023-08-01 Feminism's Progress builds on more than fifty years of feminist criticism to analyze narrative representations of feminist ideas about women's social roles, gender inequities, and needed reforms. Carol Colatrella argues that popular novels, short stories, and television shows produced in the United States and Britain — from Little Dorrit and Iola Leroy to Call the Midwife and The Closer — foster acceptance of feminism by optimistically illustrating its prospects and promises. Scholars, students, and general readers will appreciate the book's sweeping introduction to a host of concerns in feminist theory while applying a gender lens to a wide range of literature and media from the past two centuries. In exploring how individuals and communities might reduce bias and discrimination and ensure gender equity, these fictions serve as both a measure and a means of feminism's progress.

John Irving Josie P. Campbell 1998-11-24 One of America's most noted contemporary novelists, John Irving has created a body of fiction of extraordinary range, moving with ease from romance to fairytale to thriller. Although his fiction follows in the tradition of the great 19th-century world novelists, he is a quintessential American writer—his novels are laced with broad humor, farce, and absurd situations. He does not hesitate to tackle the troubling issues that have faced our nation in the past few decades, such as war, racism, sexism, abortion, violence, and AIDS. This study offers a clear, accessible reading of Irving's fiction. It analyzes in turn all of his novels from Setting Free the Bears (1968) to his newest novel A Widow for One Year (1998). It also provides the reader with a complete bibliography of Irving's fiction, as well as selected reviews and criticism. Following a biographical chapter on Irving's life, an overview of his fiction explores his work in light of his literary heritage and use of a variety of genres. Each of the following chapters examines an individual novel: Setting Free the Bears (1968), The Water-Method Man (1972), The 158-Pound Marriage (1973), The World According to Garp (1976), The Hotel New Hampshire (1981), The Cider House Rules (1985), A Prayer for Owen Meany (1989), A Son of the Circus (1994), and A Widow for One Year (1998). The discussion of each novel includes sections on plot and character development, thematic issues, and a new and fresh critical approach from which to read the novel. Campbell explores the great moral range in Irving's novels. She shows that all his novels deal with a character's quest to discover the self, a journey of raw energy that touches us because we recognize it as our own. This study will help readers to appreciate the experimental fiction that is Irving's trademark and his ability to capture the essence of American life in the last part of the twentieth century.

The Cider House Rules John Irving 1999-11-03 First published in 1985, The Cider House Rules is John Irving's sixth novel. Set in rural Maine in the first half of this century, it tells the story of Dr. Wilbur Larch--saint and obstetrician, founder and director of the orphanage in the town of St. Cloud's, ether addict and abortionist. It is also the story of Dr. Larch's favorite orphan, Homer Wells, who is never adopted.

The Cider House Rules John Irving 1999-12-10 This academy-award winning screenplay by John Irving was written over a fourteen year period and is the companion screenplay to the Miramax film, co-starring Michael Caine, who won the Acadmy Award for Best Supporting Actor for his role as Dr. Wilbur Larch. The Cider House Rules is set in rural Maine in the first half of this century. It tells the story of Homer Wells, an orphan who is raised and mentored by Wilbur Larch, the doctor at the orphanage. Dr. Larch teaches Homer everything about medicine. Yet though his capacity for kindness is saintly, Larch is also an ether addict. He and Homer come into conflict, which is typical of many father-son relationships, but in this case, their conflict is intensified by their disagreements about abortion. The result is Homer leaves the only family he has ever known. Homer's new life provides more excitement than he could have imagined, especially when he falls in love for the first time. But, when forced to make decisions that will change the course of his future, Homer finally realizes that he can't escape his past. The Cider House Rules is ultimately about the choices we make and the rules that are meant to be broken.
