Content Analysis Klaus Krippendorff 2018-05-09 What matters in people's social lives? What motivates and inspires our society? How do we enact what we know? Since the first edition published in 1980, Content Analysis has helped shape and define the field. In the highly anticipated Fourth Edition, award-winning scholar and author Klaus Krippendorff introduces readers to the most current method of analyzing the textual fabric of contemporary society. Students and scholars will learn to treat data not as physical events but as communications that are created and disseminated to be seen, read, interpreted, enacted, and reflected upon according to the meanings they have for their recipients. Interpreting communications as texts in the contexts of their social uses distinguishes content analysis from other empirical methods of inquiry. Organized into three parts, Content Analysis first examines the conceptual aspects of content analysis, then discusses components such as unitizing and sampling, and concludes by showing readers how to trace the analytical paths and apply evaluative techniques. The Fourth Edition has been completely revised to offer readers the most current techniques and research on content analysis, including new information on reliability and social media. Readers will also gain practical advice and experience for teaching academic and commercial researchers how to conduct content analysis.

Mirrors of Minds Roy D. Pea 1987 It is our conviction that a more productive orientation for the uses of technologies in education will result if one begins instead with the processes of education, and with the learner rather than the computer in the spotlight of inquiry. We find that the age of information makes new demands on the ways we think about education and on research relating to it. The nature of children's cognitive capabilities when knowledge-based tools are made available to support their thinking is a challenging terrain to explore. Moreover, the significance of social contexts and culture to students' learning with new technologies become all the more central to understand as the mutual influences of technology and context become apparent. This book of essays is testimony to that conviction, and reveals the plethora of complex basic issues one faces in doing research centered on the learner and the educational process rather than the machine.
