Using Data to Make Better Educational Decisions Philip Streifer 2002-02-11 Most of the business world has been using what is known as 'data-driven' decision making for quite some time now. From retail to medicine to travel, the ability to access data from any point and crosscheck it is commonplace-except in the educational sector. Striefer builds a case arguing that the correct use of data-and the relationship between different types of data-can be used to help answer the most complex questions in education today. This process of analyzing evidence can help school administrators go to the public with the best and most accurate information they can quickly bring together.
